

Expedition Log of the S/V Carlyn

Date: 9/22/11

Trip Day: 1

Location: Blake Island

Name(s): Adam Reiche and Anja Green

School/Grade: Gig Harbor/10, 11

Afternoon Report From Carlyn to the Web

Please share some interesting stories about today...

So... we screamed and ran. We also collected much science.

Any favorite wildlife sightings, quotes, games to share?

We saw sea lions seals and some seagulls! Rhinoceros auklet

Describe the anchorage or moorage where Carlyn is right now:

On land it is very wooded but there is also open fields and many cabin-like buildings

Today's weather...

In the morning it was very cloudy, and it rained a little bit around noon. After awhile there was some sun peaking through. It warmed up significantly in the afternoon.

Describe highlights from today's science and sailing watches:

We all learned how to do things and we caught some plankton and some plastic. We put the sails in the morning and took them down in the evening.

Any questions, concerns, or expectations for tomorrow?

I wanted to look at some sweet plankton through a microscope... aawwww yyeaaaahhh