Afternoon Report From Carlyn to the Web

Please share some interesting stories about today...

McKayla – ‘I was steering the boat, and the sun was shining off the water and wind was blowing in my face. It was difficult to stay on course because the waves were pretty big and they were rocking the propeller, and turning the wheel.’

Our whole tent woke up at 3-am just to go to the bathroom.

Annika – ‘When we did the plankton race, I won 2 out of 3 times. It was really fun to shape the plankton with the silly putty and also really fun to see if they floated. But they all sunk.’

Bryn ‘I was steering the boat towards the red boat that had 4 sea lions on it! They kept on jumping on and off the buoy.’

Any favorite wildlife sightings, quotes, games to share?

Annika – ‘Seeing the sea lions.’

Bryn – ‘Bob the weasel game was fun!’

McKayla-I liked seeing the baby dear and seal and the cute raccoons.

Describe the anchorage or moorage where Carlyn is right now:

“The water is really dark and it looks really cold. You can see Seattle in the distance. We are right next to the Bainbridge Island Ferry Dock. It is also a little cold and Seattle is starting to light up and look really pretty.”

Today’s weather...

Cold with sun and slight wind

Describe highlights from today’s science and sailing watches:

Annika- “I really liked When I got to steer the boat around the back side of Bainbridge Island.”

McKayla- I really liked when I was cooking breakfast which was pancakes and while we were waiting for the pancakes to cook we talked about our night. And Annika saying “ Please bring the brownies over here, so I can inspect them?”

Bryn-Saying “Bob the Weasel, Bob Bob the weasel.”

Any questions, concerns, or expectations for tomorrow?

Is it going to be really cold?
